Getting There

Getting to the trail is a breeze, as it is only about 35 miles outside of Minneapolis. From the Twin Cities, take I-94 west to Hwy 101 (exit 207). Take 101 north about 9 miles until you get to county road 12. Hang a right (east) on 12. Within a half mile or so, start looking for a gravel parking lot to your right. As of June '02, there was no sign, so you might miss it on your first pass by, but it is the first gravel parking lot you come to. Once you're in the parking lot, it's pretty easy to tell you're in the right place. The trail starts next to the dirt road heading south from the parking lot. BLAST has done a great job of marking the trail with white arrows, so just keep your eyes open, and you'll find it.
